POETICAL.

The following from the Boston Post, is, according to our notion, true poetry:
ASLEEP.

An hour before, she spoke of things
That Memory to the dying brings,
And kissed me all the while;
Then, after some sweet parting words,
She seem'd among her flowers and birds,
Until she fell asleep.
'Twas Summer then, 'tis Autumn now;
The crimson leaves fall off the bough,
And strow the gravel sweep.
I wander down the garden walk,
And muse on all the happy talk
We had beneath the limes;
And, resting on the garden seat,
Her old Newfoundland at my feet,
I think of other times:

Of golden eyes, when she and I
Sat watching here the flushing sky,
The sunset and the sea;
Or heard the children in lanes,
Following home the harvest swains,
And shouting in their glee.

But when the daylight dies away,
And ships grow dusky in the bay,
These recollections cease;
And in the stillness of the night,
Bright thoughts that end in dreams as bright,
Communicate their peace.

I wake and see the morning star,
And hear the breakers on the bar,
The voices on the shore;
And then, with tears, I long to be
Across a dim, unbounded sea,
With her for evermore.

THE "LAY" OF THE LAST MINSTREL.

"A Plea for Eggs."

These are the days for "Pleas" of all kinds;
"Pleas" for woman's rights; "pleas" for the poor, for the young, and for the tempted; but the annexed "plea" is somewhat out of the order of "common pleas." It is entitled a "plea for eggs."

"Be gentle to the new laid egg,
For eggs are brittle things;
They cannot fly until they're hatched,
And have a pair of wings.
If once you break the tender shell,
The wrong you can't redress;
The yolk and white will all run out,
And make a dreadful 'mess!'"

"'Tis but a little while at best,
That hens have power to lay,
To-morrow eggs may added be,
That were quite fresh to-day.
O, let the cock be very light,
That takes them from the keg;
There is no hand whose cunning skill
Can mend a broken egg!"

Aye—touch it with a tender touch,
For till the egg is hatched,
Who knows but that unwittingly,
It may be smashed and split.
The summer breeze that 'gust it blows,
Ought to be stilled and hushed:
For eggs—like youthful purity,
Are "orful" when they're squashed.

LOVE SONG.

My sole is silk for thee,
When the crescent Moon grows dim,
And the frogs set up their evening hymn,
While all the stars in shadders swim:
O dost thou think of me?
O let me kiss thy lip!
You mite as 'Wel, you nectar fear,
Your mother's out and No man's here;
O wipe that Brilient fallin tear,
And lady—let 'er Rip!

Some dear maidenlet wites as follo ws:

SONNET TO A BABELET.

"Oh! babelet why that tearlet,
A gleaming in this eyelid,
Thy heartlet—babelet—darling;
Thou shouldst never know a sightlet,
A smilelet on thy liplet,
Shouldst gladden little lovelet;
Of joy's cup take a siplet,
Don't cry my pretty dovelet."

Oh, Jimmala!

Too Bad!—After Bennett, of the New York Herald, has sucked all the money he could get out of the Fremonters, he turns upon them in their hour of defeat and thus berates them:

"In the first place, the opposition coalition went into the battle in Pennsylvania like an army, or rather two armies conjoined, of raw and undisciplined militia, against a compact body of regular troops. There was neither discipline, nor system, nor concord, nor unity, nor confidence, among the opposition forces. Their central committees were central humbugs managed by old party fossils who understand nothing of the real issues of the day. Mr. Gibbons, of Philadelphia, at the head of the corps, is particularly one of this old fogey set, 'who learn nothing and forget nothing.' Mr. E. D. Morgan, of this city, the head of the republican documentary committee here, is another of the of the same school. They are a class of waiters upon providence, who, like Micawber, are forever waiting for 'something to turn up.' Another and more active mischief-maker among the opposition forces, has been Thurlow Weed, of Albany, whose whole party policy is the pocket of Thurlow Weed—everything for Thurlow Weed. Take, for example, the nomination of John A. King for Governor of New York—a nomination twenty-five years behind the age; but perhaps the best calculated of any nominee that could have been selected to forward the railroad monopolizing projects of Thurlow Weed, and therefore thrust by the Weed clique upon the Fremont party of New York."

An Arkansas "Squire" got married during the past winter, and has since become enthusiastic. Hear him:
"Oh, there's not in the wide world a happier life, than to sit by the stove-pipe and tickle your wife—taste the sweet of her lips in the moment of glee, and twist the cat's tail when she jumps on your knee."

POLITICAL.

Brief Sketch OF THE LIFE AND ACTS OF AN AMERICAN STATESMAN.

JAMES BUCHANAN

Was Born
ON THE 23D DAY OF APRIL, 1791,
AT STONEY BATTER,
On the Eastern slope of the Alleghanies.
IN 1805
He entered Dickinson College.
He graduated with Distinguished Honor
IN 1809.

The same year
He commenced the study of Law, and was admitted to the Bar, November 17, 1812.
His career in the
PROFESSOR WAS A SERIES OF SUCCESSIVE TRIUMPHS.
IN 1814

He made a powerful speech in favor of a VIGOROUS PROSECUTION OF THE WAR WITH GREAT BRITAIN,
And volunteered
AS A COMMON SOLDIER
IN THE RANKS OF THE AMERICAN ARMY!
OCTOBER, 1814.

He was elected a member of the PENNSYLVANIA LEGISLATURE,
Where he declared "That the Invading Enemy must be driven from our shores,"
And proclaimed himself in favor of THE RIGHTS OF THE NATURALIZED CITIZEN,

And opposed to
THE PROSCRIPTION OF FOREIGNERS.
OCTOBER, 1815,
He was again elected to the Legislature.
IN 1820

HE WAS ELECTED TO CONGRESS.
He was re-elected for FIVE SUCCESSIVE TERMS.
During these
TEN YEARS IN CONGRESS,
He immortalized himself by his eloquence, and made the world acknowledge him to be
A STATESMAN.
IN 1822

He spoke in favor of Military Appropriations; Against the Bankrupt Bill; In support of the Tariff; and proclaimed himself opposed to sectionalism, and a Representative neither of the East, nor of the West, nor of the North, nor of the South,
BUT FOR THE WHOLE COUNTRY.
IN 1824.

He spoke in favor of the Niagara Sufferers in the War of 1812, and for the Presidency pronounced himself emphatically for Andrew Jackson.
IN 1825

He analyzed the Judiciary System,
And spoke in favor of The Independence of the South American States.
IN 1826

He declared in Congress that Spain should cede to no government but that of the United States
THE ISLAND OF CUBA,
And made a triumphant speech in support of Pensions for Revolutionary Soldiers.

IN 1829
He took strong position
FAVOR OF RETIREMENT IN NATIONAL EXPENSES.
IN 1830
He made his profound speech on the Impeachment of Judge Peck, and vindicated the rights of the Public Press.
IN 1831

He voluntarily retired from Congress.
IN 1832
President Jackson appointed him
MINISTER TO RUSSIA,
Where he succeeded in making a most important Commercial Treaty.
IN 1833

He was elected to
THE UNITED STATES SENATE.
IN 1834
He took his seat, and made his masterly speech on French Republics; declared we must not only assert our Rights, but maintain them.
IN 1835-6

He attacked incendiary Publications. He became, at the same time, the exponent of the national sympathy for TEXAN INDEPENDENCE.

He plead in behalf of the sufferers by the fire in New York; indorsed the policy of the great Jackson in respect to our relations with France; advocated the admission into the Union of Michigan and Arkansas; and declared himself
TO BE A STATE RIGHTS MAN!
IN 1837

He took bold ground in favor of the Expunging Resolutions of Colonel Benton, declaring Andrew Jackson to be the Saviour of the Liberties of our country.

He took strong ground in SUPPORT OF THE SUB TREASURY BILL,
And, in his speech upon our Relations with Mexico, uttered that sentence which will be as immortal as our history:

"MILLIONS TO DEFEND OUR RIGHTS, BUT NOT ONE CENT FOR TRIBUTE."
IN 1838

He was the foremost defender of the Pre-Emption Rights against the Tyranny of Landed Monopolists.
IN 1839

He delivered his great speech on the Independent Treasury, in which he so nobly vindicated the rights of labor, and declared that
"THAT THE COUNTRY IS THE MOST PROSPEROUS WHERE LABOR COMMANDS THE GREATEST REWARD."
IN 1840

His celebrated reply to Clay and Archer on the Fiscal Bank Question.
IN 1841

He delivered his noted argument in the McLeod Case, on International Law.
IN 1842

He pronounced his thorough statesmanlike opinion on the Veto Power.
IN 1843

He seconded the conduct of Daniel Webster, in the Ashburton and Webster treaty.
IN 1844

He took peremptory ground in favor of our Settlements on the Pacific; for the Territorial growth of Oregon, and for the annexation of Texas.
IN 1845
By the advice of Andrew Jackson, President

Polk appointed him
SECRETARY OF STATE.

While in this important position he settled the Oregon Boundary;
Conducted the negotiations which resulted in the war with Mexico;
Led to the Acquisition and Conquest of California;

And in his negotiations with England, declared that naturalized American Citizens were entitled to the same protection as native born Citizens; protected the Patriots of the Irish Revolution of 1840,

And left the State Department filled with the highest evidence of his wisdom.
IN 1849

He retired to private life.
IN 1852

President Pierce appointed him
MINISTER TO ENGLAND,
Where, by his consummate ability, his diplomatic tact, and his sagacious foresight, he laid the foundation for the settlement of all our difficulties with England.

IN MAY, 1856,
He returned from Europe, was welcomed
By a grateful Nation,
With the heartfelt applause which his career abroad had merited.

IN JUNE, 1856,
The unanimous voice of Representatives from every county in the United States, Upon a Platform as
BROAD AS THE CONSTITUTION,
As national as the Union,
selected

JAMES BUCHANAN,
The Farmer Boy of Franklin,
The confidant of the sage of the Hermitage, the Statesman,
Whose public services make up the history of
NEARLY HALF A CENTURY,
As the Candidate of Democracy for the Presidency of the United States.

On the 4th of March, 1857,
HE WILL BE INAUGURATED PRESIDENT.

Finally,
His political is but a counterpart of his private life, in which his Christian virtues, his every-day Benevolence, and his neighborhood charities, have made him the idol of his Home, the ornament of his religion, the Protector of the Friendless, and
THE CHOICE OF THE NATION!!!

FACTS FOR THE PEOPLE.

The following incidents of Mr. Fillmore's political career are compiled from the authenticated public records of the country, and we pledge ourselves to establish the truth of any one of them that may be questioned:

It is a fact, That Millard Fillmore, the knowing candidate for President commenced his political career as an anti-Mason, and in opposition to all secret societies.

It is a fact, That he favored the reception, reading and consideration of Congress of abolition petitions on the subject of slavery and the slave trade.

It is a fact, That he declared himself opposed to the annexation of Texas to the Union, so long as slavery exists therein.

It is a fact, That he favored the exercise by Congress of all its Constitutional power to abolish the internal slave trade between the States.

It is a fact, That he favored immediate legislation for the abolition of slavery in the District of Columbia.

It is a fact, That he entertained doubts as to the Constitutionality of the Fugitive Slave Law, and did not sign it until advised to do so by his Attorney General.

It is a fact, That he is opposed to the exercise of the power, and that he is nowhere pledged to veto a bill for the repeal of the Fugitive Slave Law, or for the abolition of the slave trade between the States, or of slavery in the District of Columbia.

It is a fact, That he was nominated by a Convention, a majority of whose members were notorious abolitionists, and that he has accepted and endorsed a platform which denounces the repeal of the odious Missouri restriction, as reckless and unwise.

It is a fact, That he nowhere approved the Kansas act, and that he is nowhere pledged against its repeal.

It is a fact, That in 1836, he wrote his famous letter to the Erie Committee, in which he declared himself in favor of abolishing slavery in the District of Columbia and in all the Territories.

It is a fact, That while a member of Congress he voted with the abolitionists, against the Atheron resolutions, which declared "That Congress has no right to do that indirectly which it cannot do directly and that the agitation of slavery in the District of Columbia, or the Territories, as a means, and with the view of disturbing or overthrowing that institution in the several States, is against the true spirit and meaning of the Constitution, an infringement of the rights of the States affected and a breach of the public faith upon which they entered into the Confederacy."

It is a fact, That he voted with John Q. Adams, in all his efforts to abolish the 21st rule, which forbid the reference of abolition petitions.

It is a fact, That he voted in favor of a proposition of John Q. Adams, to establish diplomatic relations of the negro government of Hayti.

It is a fact, That he voted against a proposition to forbid the enlisting of negroes in the Navy, and prohibiting them from giving testimony upon court-martials against white men.

It is a fact, That while President he selected the subordinate officers of the Government, principally from the free soil ranks.

It is a fact, That he would never have signed the Fugitive Slave Law, had not Henry Clay, Daniel Webster, and other great conservative leaders of his party forced him to do it by their urgent importunities.

It is a fact, That while President of the United States, he signed the Washington Territorial Bill, one clause of which allows foreigners to vote in that Territory, after an actual residence of two years, with certain other limitations and restrictions, and in opposition to which Millard Fillmore was nominated and is now running the Presidential race.

A young lady explained to a printer the other day, says an exchange, the distinction between printing and publishing, and, at the conclusion of her remarks, by way of illustration, she said "you may print a kiss on my cheek, but you must not publish it."

[From the Cincinnati Enquirer.]
AN UPROAR IN MISTAKE

One of the richest things of the season was witnessed on Saturday evening last in our sister city of Covington. During the day it had been announced at the street corners and in the coffee-houses of that prosperous and quiet city, that in the evening "Sam" would be present at his headquarters for the purpose of holding a love-feast. Hand-bills stating that "the death of Fremontism increases Fillmore's chances," were freely circulated. It was no ordinary occasion that was thus to draw all Covington know-nothings together. The Grand President of the Grand Council of the United States of North America, had descended to the level of ordinary mortality, and was posted for—a speech! Glorious condescension! That mighty man having authority, who had said unto this know-nothing "Go," and he went, and unto that know-nothing "Come," and he came; who had pulled down and set up Presidents of Councils for more than one sovereign State; who had crowned Ware with the diadem which he had torn the brow of Tom Spooner, who had thundered like Jupiter, when he used to get "roily," against the wicked know-nothings of Indiana; and who, by putting a finishing touch to one of the richest farces of the nineteenth century, had moved the laughter and wrath of men by fuming his last American bull away across the continent to the old blue-law and wooden-nutmeg State of Connecticut; yes, gentle reader, His Serene Highness, Edward the First, Pope of the United States and the Territories and the District of Columbia, was advertised to speak in Council.

The sun set in majestic splendor behind the western horizon, and the little stars, one by one, commenced twinkling from their places in the sky, and the little know-nothings and big began the line of march—tramp, tramp—up three flight of stairs and through two dark passages to the meeting place where the Covington "Americans" are accustomed to assemble. For half an hour or more, however, it looked like the meeting would be a dead failure for that night; but the slim crowd of know-nothings present took it for granted there would be some eloquence before the adjournment, though not a word of it had yet been spoken. So the boys set to squealing, and the men commenced shouting, and by dint of roars of premature applause a respectable audience was at last gathered together, composed partly of know-nothings and partly of democrats, with here and there an old-line whig, who had expressed a preference for Buchanan.

As the "American" Pontiff had not yet arrived, old Doctor B—, a gentleman whose public speeches are about as good as phycis as his castor oil and cologne, arose and spoke the prologue to the comedy. He said he had been to the interior of this State. They told us Fillmore would get everybody in Kentucky, except the democrats, a few renegade know-nothings, and certain whigs who were going to vote for Buchanan in order to have a share of the loaves and fishes. But they would neither get loaf nor fish. As for him, he would rather see Fremont elected than Buchanan. If slavery were abolished in Kentucky, he would move to Tennessee; if in Tennessee, he would go to Mississippi. Niggers must wait on him—white folks wouldn't. He believed Buchanan was worse Abolitionist than Fremont; for as Fremont was born in the South and Buchanan in the North ergo (quod est demonstrandum, and clear as mud) Buchanan was an Abolitionist and Fremont wasn't.

The physician resumed his seat. Mr. A. D. Madeira next called for—Grand President Bartlett not yet arrived. Mr. A. D. Madeira was evidently prepared for something. His shirt collar and speech had been "done up" for the occasion. Mr. A. D. Madeira is one of those whom Pope Pius IX chased out of the ranks of the democracy. Mr. A. D. Madeira is ex-grand secretary of the ex-grand Pope-fearing order, and so Mr. A. D. Madeira took a tilt at His Holiness in a speech of nearly an hour. Mr. A. D. Madeira, though personally a very small man, made the know-nothing hall ring with words of learned length and thundering sound about the Pope, Peter the Hermit, the English statutes of Mortmain, Xerxes and the Alhambra. Unfortunately, Mr. A. D. Madeira lacked method in his knowledge, and consequently, his upper story is packed with literature as in some third-story garret with cast-away trumphy and house-old lumber. Poesy, poetry, fancy, foreboding scraps of history and sighs of "Sam" seem to float before his mind's eye "in all the mazes of metaphorical confusion."

After having pitched lustily into the Pope, and given him what men are expected to give an assailant party when he's got no friends, Mr. A. D. Madeira commenced calculating the chances of Millard Fillmore for the Presidency, Pennsylvania had gone for the democracy. This result, said Mr. A. D. Madeira, greatly strengthens Fillmore's in that State. He had always maintained that it would. Had Pennsylvania cast her vote for the Fremont candidates, Fremont would have been the contending candidate; but now Fremont is nowhere; he will be dropped, and Fillmore is almost sure to get the State in November, because the Democracy carried it at the State elections. The success of the democracy was the best thing that could have happened for Fillmore.

At this moment it was announced to the meeting that the latest telegraphic dispatches which had been received placed it beyond all doubt that the black-republicans, and not the democratic party had carried Pennsylvania. The scene that followed beggars all description. Shrieks, shouts, yells and other frantic demonstrations of applause were indulged in, until the Covington know-nothing hall might naturally enough have been mistaken for an apartment of Pandemonium. Not the most abolitionist parvenu of "Gleesdom," nor Essex Hall, nor Boston Common—not Greeley, nor Garrison, nor Burlingame, nor Fred. Douglass, nor any other anti-Bible and anti-Constitution creature could have given expression to more joy and rejoicing than did these southern know-nothings when they heard of a triumph of the black-republican party. Comment on such a scene would be a work of supererogation. Can anything better show that there is abolitionism, even in the South, that covers itself up in the garb of know-nothingism? Nothing. Hypocrisy is the only sin that walks abroad that cannot be discerned, except by the eye of God alone; and yet hypocrisy has so long been a characteristic of this oath-bound order, that is the South, as well as in the North, abolitionism itself can very well find a hiding-place within the fold of its impenetrable mantle.

But to return to our comedy. Before the applause had subsided, Edward, by the grace of "Sam," supreme ruler of know-nothingdom, who had just entered the hall, arose and took the stand.

Major Edward B. Bartlett is the second of the dynasty, having succeeded, or rather disposed, that illustrious prince, John Barker. Major Edward B. Bartlett joined the Democracy; was a secretary of the convention that nominated General Pierce and there, with the exception of the Kansas-Nebraska question and one or two other issues, indorsed the whole of what is now the democratic platform which he affects to despise, including the foreign and Catholic plank, naturalization and all. Some envious people say Major Edward B. Bartlett was an unsuccessful applicant for office under the present Administration, and what is more—anti-Catholic, "anti-farmer," and anti-democrat as he is—signed, less than four years since, the application of a man to be made Postmaster of Covington, who was a democrat, a Catholic and a foreigner! But let bygones be bygones. Major Edward B. Bartlett is now head and front of the men who swear they will rule America, and has a right to abuse the Pope, the "farmers" and the democracy as much as he pleases. He holds a commission to do all that in his pocket.

Major Edward B. Bartlett pledged himself not to make a speech. That pledge, at least, he kept most sacredly. In what he did say, he took a different text, and slot wide of the mark of Mr. A. D. Madeira. Pennsylvania, the telegraph said, had gone the Union (i. e. chiefly black-republican, with a small sprinkle of know-nothing) ticket. That was a triumph for Mr. Fillmore. (Mr. Madeira had just said the success of the democracy was a triumph for Fillmore!) "For," asked Major Edward B. Bartlett, with a grand display of voice and gesture, "who nominated the Union ticket? Was it not nominated by the American party?"

Therefore, (here he was again right in the teeth of Mr. Madeira) the success of the Union (alias black-republican) ticket, was the success of Mr. Fillmore. Could Aristotle himself, though he were to raise from the dead for that purpose, arrive at a better conclusion than this of Major E. B. Bartlett? We admire his ingenuity, and became a convert to his logic. We would humbly suggest to Major Edward B. Bartlett, however, that he be oblivious to the past and its reminders. He asked, "was not the Pennsylvania Union ticket nominated by the American party?" Were not Henry Wilson, and Banks, and Burlingame nominated by the American party?

Why did he exclude them from the American party? He holds communion with men since they have become recreant and gone to black republicanism in Pennsylvania. He rejoices in their successes. Wilson, Banks and Burlingame did nothing more than become recreant and go black republicanism. Why did the chief of all know-nothingdom expel them? Why did he banish Tom Spooner, the Hoosiers and the Yankees? Surely they did nothing more than prove recreant and go to black republicanism. And yet the Grand President spurned them, while he embraces the Pennsylvanians! "Pah!" as Hamlet exclaimed when he threw down the fetid skull of Yorick, the King's jester, "to what base uses we may return!"

Major Edward B. Bartlett opened the vials of his wrath for a short while longer upon the devoted head of democracy. Quoth he, "I have been attracted hither by the voice of the cannon. Fellow-citizens, that is a Fillmore cannon. I know it whenever I hear it. It is our American cannon speaking in tones of thunder to announce an American victory!" Reader, it was the Fourth Ward (Cincinnati) cannon, and it spoke to announce a democratic victory. "Ay, ay!" shrieked Mr. A. D. Madeira, "fellow-citizens, the democrats have exclaimed, 'All hail, Pennsylvania!' There has been hail in that State, but it has injured the Buchanan crop." Mr. A. D. Madeira pronounced the word "hail" with an emphasis, which rendered it questionable if he did not mean to pun; but the audience looked distressingly solemn, as if Mr. A. D. Madeira's wit were as unfathomable as his wisdom.

Major Edward B. Bartlett then conclude his speech and sat down, and the audience shouted and rose up. But the latter did not disperse before Mr. G. W. B., a most respectable citizen of Covington, had announced "that he was as good an 'American' as any of them; but after what he has witnessed there that night he would vote for Buchanan, if he could get to the polls in November."

There are other Fillmore men, who witnessed this southern rejoicing over a black-republican victory, and who will undoubtedly vote with the democracy.

P. S.—LATER.—It is almost needless to say that in the matter of the "telegraphic dispatch" these Covington know-nothings were completely and cruelly hoaxed. Pennsylvania is democratic by more than six thousand majority. Their enjoyment was both "short and sweet."

MORAL.—When southern know-nothings wish to crow over a black-republican victory, they must first be sure that black-republicanism is "out of the woods."

FIENDISH CRUELTY.—The Lockport Journal has the following almost incredible account:

A tragedy took place in this village on Tuesday evening exhibiting such revolting cruelty as to be almost incredible. A little boy, five years of age, belonging to Mrs. Story, on Washington street, was roasted alive by a fiend in human shape named Elizabeth Craig, a white woman whose husband is a negro. The evidence elicited before the coroner's jury shows that the victim was left with a smaller child by its mother, when Elizabeth Craig, who lived in another portion of the house, took the opportunity, and entered the apartment, and proceeded to the execution of the deed, which, it has been shown, she had previously threatened. With horrid imprecations of "damn you, damn you," the child was held on the fire by its tormentor, until its legs and bowels were burned to a cinder; then

FARR'S AGUE TONIC, Or Quinine Substitute;
FOR THE EFFECTUAL CURE OF FEVER AND AGUE AND INTERMIT-TENT FEVER.

WHICH compound is the result of profound research and chemical investigation, by one of the most celebrated chemists now living in this or any other country. It is general use throughout the Eastern States, during a period of 16 years unparalleled success, must entirely it is a similar preparation in the Western country. The proprietor assures the public that no quinine or mineral substance, so injurious to the system, and invariably affording but temporary relief, enters its composition—that it is essentially vegetable in its nature, may be given to persons of every age and either sex, and when administered according to directions, never fails to effect a certain cure and completely prevent a return of the disease.

CASE'S IMPROVED DOUBLE DROPPING
Corn Planter.
THIS MACHINE plants corn in check rows, any required distance apart, so as to be cultivated both ways; also in hills or drills, to be cultivated one way only. The quantity of seed dropped in each way may be regulated as desired. The drilling is done by the revolution of the wheel, while the check row dropping is regulated by hand, and the ground must first be furrowed one way then a man and one horse with this Machine will plant from six to nine acres per day, thus saving the labor of from two to four hands, and doing the work better than it is done the common way of planting.

THE FACT of planting in check rows by machinery is fully established; but it is equally evident that it cannot be done by the revolution of a wheel, and the ONLY way to regulate it by hand.

These Machines were used extensively the past season, and gave general satisfaction, and any amount of evidence can be produced as to the utility of the Machine, and if requested, I will furnish any information desired.

DR. BLACKWELL'S
Sarsaparilla
AND VERSCOLA:
For the Cure of Scrofula, Dyspepsia,
Chronic Rheumatism, Secondary
Syphilis, and Blood Impurities of all kinds.

MIDDLETOWN, Jefferson county, Ky.,
Aug. 13, 1855.

DR. VAUGHAN—Dear Sir: In the summer of 1852 I had a black head afflicted with something like Scrofula, his head, neck, and all of his joints were covered with running ulcers. I had lost all hope for him, when I commenced the use of your Sarsaparilla and Verscola, about six bottles of which entirely cured him.

Respectfully, ALLEN MINOL.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Dec. 28, 1855.
In my family regularly for the last year, and having fully tested its virtues, I take pleasure in recommending it for Chronic Rheumatism, impurities of the Blood, Indigestion, and would further say no family should be without it.

Respectfully, JOHN D. POPE,
City Auditor.

LOUISVILLE, Dec. 8, 1855.
Dr. VAUGHAN—Sir: I have been afflicted for the last five or six years with Chronic Habitual Constipation, and at times entirely helpless, and suffering beyond expression. I tried physicians to no purpose, and then the various Sarsaparilla, but without relief, until about eight months ago I commenced the use of Blackwell's Sarsaparilla and Verscola, and I am happy to say it has performed a cure.
I would recommend it as the best in use.

Respectfully, MARY ANN LEE,
Fourth st., between Green and Walnut.

THE WONDER OF THE NINETEENTH CENTURY!

IMPORTANT AND OF GREAT CONSIDERATION TO THE SUFFERING.
THOS. A. HURLEY'S
Sarsaparilla.

OF all the remedies that have been discovered during the present age for the "thousand ills that flesh is heir to," none equal this wonderful preparation. Only three years have elapsed since the discoverer (who spent decades in studying experimental medicine) first introduced it to the public, and it is already recognized by the most eminent physicians in all parts of the country to be the most surprising and effective remedy for certain diseases of the human system.

All other compounds or syrups of the root have hitherto failed to command the sanction of the faculty, because, undergoing tests, they have been found to contain noxious ingredients, which neutralize the good effects of the Sarsaparilla and sometimes injure the health of the patient. It is not so with Hurley's preparation.

This is the pure and genuine extract of the root, and will, on trial, be found to effect a certain and perfect cure of the following complaints and diseases: Habitual Constipation, Debility, Indigestion, Diseases of the Kidneys, Liver Complaint, Dropsy, Piles, Pulmonary Diseases,
Female Irregularities, Scrofula, or King's Evil, Syphilis,
And all Skin Diseases.

Residing during the cure, it is also known to be a great and powerful Tonic, purifying the blood and invigorating
the system.

In short, it is, without exception, in the cases mentioned and its general effect on the system, the most efficacious of any remedy that has ever been discovered. It is already extensively used throughout the country, and its success in curing has effected a daily coming to the proprietor's knowledge, and he has no hesitation in recommending it to all who are afflicted with the above named diseases.

One bottle being tried, its effects will be too apparent to admit of further doubt.

Recollect Hurley's Sarsaparilla is the only genuine article in the market.

It is sold in per bottle, or six bottles for $5.
For sale at the manufactory, corner Seventh and Green streets, Louisville, Ky., and by all wholesale houses throughout the United States and Canada.

BRITISH PERIODICALS.
Reprinted from Advance Sheets
RECEIVED FROM THE ENGLISH PUBLISHERS
By which early copies of each work are at all times positively secured.

LEONARD SCOTT & CO.,
NEW YORK, continue to publish the following
British Periodicals, viz:

The London Quarterly Review, (Conservative).
Edinburgh Review, (Whig).
North British Review, (Free Church).
Westminster Review, (Liberal).

Blackwood's Edinburgh Magazine, (Tory.)
The present critical season European affairs will render these publications of peculiarly interesting character for forthcoming year. They will occupy a middle ground between the hastily written news items, crude speculations, and flying reports of the daily journal, and the ponderous tone of the classic historian, written after the living interest and excitement of the great political events of the time shall have passed away. It is to these periodicals that readers must look for the only really interesting and valuable history of current events, and as such, in addition to their well-established literary, scientific, and theological character, we urge them upon the consideration of the reading public.

Arrangements are now permanently made for the receipt of early sheets from the British Publishers, by which we are enabled to place all our reprints in the hands of subscribers about as soon as they could be furnished with the foreign copies. Although this involves a very large outlay, we shall continue to furnish the periodicals at the same low rates as heretofore, viz:

For any one of the four Reviews - $ 3 00
For any two of the four Reviews - 5 00
For any three of the four Reviews - 7 00
For all four of the Reviews - 8 00
For Blackwood's Magazine - 3 00
For Blackwood and three Reviews - 9 00
For Blackwood and the four Reviews - 10 00

A discount of 25 per cent from the above prices, will be allowed to clubs ordering ten or more copies of any one or more of the above works. Thus, four copies of Blackwood, or of one Review, will be sent to one address for $30; four copies of the four Reviews and Blackwood for $30; and so on.

POSTAGE.
In all the principal cities and towns these works will be delivered, through agents, free of postage. When sent by mail, the postage to any part of the United States will be but 25 cents a year for Blackwood, and but 12 cents a year for each of the Reviews.

Remittances and communications should always be addressed, post-paid, to the publishers.
